COMP1021
Introduction to Web Technologies

Coursework 2 Mark scheme

	Advanced	Intermediate	Basic
CSS (5 marks)	- The student has fully integrated Bootstrap into their website. - The CSS validates without errors or warnings.	- The student has made some changes to enable the responsive web. - All CSS validates with only warnings.	- The student has successfully implemented a CSS style to enable printing of their web page.
JavaScript & responsive web(15 marks)	- The student included a substantial amount of JavaScript into their web sites and uses jQuery effectively. - The JavaScript runs without errors in the terminal. - The student has separated their JavaScript into separate files.	- The student has successfully implemented a number of JavaScript features on their website. - The student has used jQuery to integrate some dynamic con- tent (this may be as simple as including video controls).	- The student has implemented some basic features using JavaScript.

	Advanced	Intermediate	Basic
Advanced features of HTML5 (20 marks)	- The student effectively integrates a number of advanced HTML5 features into their website.	- The student implemented an advanced feature of HTML5 and successfully integrated it into the website.	- The student has implemented an advanced features of HTML5 with limited success.

	Advanced	Intermediate	Basic
Design (12 marks)	- The student has included justification for any design decisions made. - The student has provided an outline of a new set of features and has explained how they will benefit their original website.	- The student has produced a set of design documents with a clear aim. - The student has produced a set of wireframe models of each of the new features that they intend to add to their web page.	- The student has produced a set of vague design documents.
Evaluation (8 marks)	- The student has provided a full evaluation and has considered the impact on their site of the new features. - The student has applied a method testing approach to ensure that the new features are implemented correctly. - The student has considered additional features to add and how they would improve/impact their web site.	- The student has provided an evaluation of the new features they have implemented and have justified any changes to their original design. - The student has demonstrated that they have considered testing to ensure that their implementation meets the original design.	- The student has provided a superficial evaluation of the new features they have implemented.